

Import Existing Sources. Libraries

This page lets you select and configure the libraries to be included in your project.

In the left-hand pane, under Libraries, the list of libraries and archives found in the specified location are shown. When you highlight an item in this pane, its contents are shown in the right-hand pane under Library contents.

Use the check boxes to select the libraries which you want to include in your project. Use other controls available on this page to rename the libraries, and also split or merge them (see below).

Item	Description
	Click this icon to rename the selected (highlighted) library or archive.
	Click this icon to join several selected (highlighted) libraries or archives into a new library.
	Click this button to split the selected (highlighted) library into two parts. In the Split Library dialog, select the files to be extracted into the new library.

See Also

Procedures:

- Creating a Project by Importing Existing Sources

Web Resources:

- Developer Community 