

New Servlet Dialog

Use this dialog box to create a servlet.

Item	Description
<servlet-name>	Use this field to define the root part of the new servlet name. The suffix and prefix (if any) are generated automatically, according to the settings in the Java EE Names page of the Global Code Style dialog box.
Package	Specify the target package where the new servlet will be generated. Type the path in the text field, or click the ellipsis button and specify the desired package in the package chooser dialog box. If the desired package doesn't exist, you can create a new one using the  button.
Servlet class	Specify the target class.
