

SDK Page

Specify the J2ME SDK to be associated with the module.

Item	Description
Project SDK	Shown in this area is an SDK of the appropriate type (a J2ME SDK) that you may want to associate with the module that you are creating. If this is really the SDK that you are going to use in your module, click the SDK and click Next . Otherwise, click Configure to specify a different SDK.
Configure	Click this button to select the home directory of the desired J2ME SDK. See the description of the dialog that opens . By the time you perform this action, the corresponding SDK must already be available (i.e. installed) in the corresponding directory.
